By Roger Minick

Small and lightweight enough to fit into a person's palm, the cellphone camera, loaded with its many applications, has become a significant chronicler of our times. By virtue of its ease of operation, and the fact that it accompanies us wherever we go, people worldwide are suddenly able to record, document and interpret their lives to a degree previously unknown in history.

Even in the hands of the serious photographer, the smartphone camera has become what the sketch pad has traditionally been for the painter—an immediate and quick means of making visual studies of life's infinite moments. In iDIARIST, photographer Roger Minick presents images that he has created using the iPhone and its many amazing apps.

Perambulation Press offers iDIARIST in a limited edition of 100. The book (75 high-quality full-color reproductions) is hardbound (9"x11") with dust jacket, and includes an original, signed and numbered 13"x13" print from the book, purchaser's choice. Signed and numbered book and print: $200.
